IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

HASSELL, LORRENIE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0872

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

HERRERA, MILDA L., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0874

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 75 through 81 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MIRANDA, SARA A., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0887

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

DUCREAY, SR., ISAIAH, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0889

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

LOPEZ, MYRNA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0891

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 82 through 88 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. 9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RODRIGUEZ, EDWIN, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0893

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 73 through 79 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

BOULOGNE, EMILY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0895

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SALDANA, ALICIA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0897

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SOTO, LUIS M. SR., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0899

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

DIAZ, ZAIDA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0901

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 75 through 81 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ARROYO, PAULA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0903

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 79 through 85 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

WILLIAMS, CLAYTON, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0905

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Case No. SX-15-CV-0907

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

CHASSANG, VITALIENNE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0909

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 74 through 80 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

DOCTRINE, JOSEPH, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0911

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SYDNEY, ADRIANA VIOLA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0913

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 18-38 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 22, 37 and 38. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 22 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 37 and 38, but denies, as to paragraph 38, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 74 through 80 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RODRIGUEZ, SANDRA MEDINA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0915

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 26-46 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 30, 45 and 46. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 30 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 45 and 46, but denies, as to paragraph 46, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 83 through 89 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

FERDINAND, BRENDA,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0917

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 2/9/1946), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ST. BRICE, AGATHA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0919

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 19-39 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 23, 38 and 39. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 23 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 38 and 39, but denies, as to paragraph 39, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 78 through 84 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

COLON, JULIO D., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0921

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 69 through 75 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 15-35 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 19, 34 and 35. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 19 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 34 and 35, but denies, as to paragraph 35, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

3. Paragraphs 16-36 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 20, 35 and 36. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 20 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 35 and 36, but denies, as to paragraph 36, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 73 through 79 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

3. Paragraphs 19-39 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 23, 38 and 39. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 23 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 38 and 39, but denies, as to paragraph 39, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 74 through 80 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

WILLIAMS, ANDY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0936

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 74 through 80 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Case No. SX-15-CV-0938

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 22-42 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 26, 41 and 42. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 26 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 41 and 42, but denies, as to paragraph 42, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 83 through 89 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Case No. SX-15-CV-0940

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 19-39 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 23, 38 and 39. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 23 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 38 and 39, but denies, as to paragraph 39, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 77 through 83 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. 9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RODRIGUEZ, RENALDO, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0942

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 70 through 76 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

WILTSHIRE, EDRIS,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0944

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 3/16/1944), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

COLON, EDELMIRO BENITEZ, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0946

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 16-36 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 20, 35 and 36. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 20 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 35 and 36, but denies, as to paragraph 36, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 73 through 79 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

POLIDORE, CORNELIA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0948

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 70 through 76 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MARTINA, DUDLEY G., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0950

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

HENRY, DONNA THOMAS, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0952

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ALPHONSE, ANASTASIA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0954

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RODRIGUEZ, LUZ ENEIDA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0956

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 19-39 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 23, 38 and 39. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 23 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 38 and 39, but denies, as to paragraph 39, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 75 through 81 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ORTIZ, FELIPE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0958

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 69 through 75 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ROYER, FLORA A.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0960

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 11/10/1942), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

CHARLES, FRANCIS E., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0962

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

WILTSHIRE, ETHELBERT, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0964

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SOTO, LUIS,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0966

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 7/13/1972), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

PARRILLA, SONIA M., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0968

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 24-44 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 28, 43 and 44. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 28 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 43 and 44, but denies, as to paragraph 44, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 81 through 87 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

GARCIA, LUIS RIVERA,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0970

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 7/17/1943), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 63 through 69 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 69 through 75 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 10/19/1939), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 70 through 76 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 15-35 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 19, 34 and 35. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 19 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 34 and 35, but denies, as to paragraph 35, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 65 through 71 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

LOUISY, JULITA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0983

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 73 through 79 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

JARVIS, CATHERINE R., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0985

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 70 through 76 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

BEAUPIERRE, HENRY,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0987

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 2/26/1949), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

PIERRE, BERNADINE S., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0989

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 15-35 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 19, 34 and 35. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 19 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 34 and 35, but denies, as to paragraph 35, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RISHI-MAHARAJ, SHIRLEY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0991

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

LEONCE, HERBERT, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0993

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

JOHN, ANNE,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0995

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 7/30/1930), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 65 through 71 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

GRIFFITH, ROSELINE MARY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0997

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

FERDINAND, PEARLINE,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0999

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 3/14/1936), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SHERWOOD, JOY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1001

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 16-36 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 20, 35 and 36. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 20 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 35 and 36, but denies, as to paragraph 36, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 73 through 79 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ROGERS, ANCELIA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1003

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ROSA, EDELMIRA DE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1005

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

WARD, LENORE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1007

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

AZILLE, BERNARD H., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1009

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

JAMES, ELEANOR ROSITA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1011

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 70 through 76 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ANTHONY, JEROME, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1013

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

BERRY, RITA,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1015

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 10/29/1939), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

VAZQUEZ, JOSE E., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1017

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

CONNOR, LENNARD I., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1019

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

3. Paragraphs 17-37 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 21, 36 and 37. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 21 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 36 and 37, but denies, as to paragraph 37, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 73 through 79 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

3. Paragraphs 15-35 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 19, 34 and 35. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 19 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 34 and 35, but denies, as to paragraph 35, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 69 through 75 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

DONOVAN, MARY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1032

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 70 through 76 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Case No. SX-15-CV-1036

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RIVERA, BEATRICE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1038

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 15-35 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 19, 34 and 35. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 19 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 34 and 35, but denies, as to paragraph 35, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 74 through 80 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. 9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RAMOS, JOSEFINA,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1040

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-5 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 1/3/1951), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 6-26 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 10, 25 and 26. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 10 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 25 and 26, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 26, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 63 through 69 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. 15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MALDONADO, CARMEN P., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1042

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 16-36 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 20, 35 and 36. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 20 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 35 and 36, but denies, as to paragraph 36, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 76 through 82 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SAMUEL, MONICA V., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1044

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ROSA, IRIS C., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1046

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 69 through 75 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

TAPIA, JUAN III, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-1048

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Case No. SX-15-CV-1050

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. 22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

GILBERT, INGRID, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-927

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.
