IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ALOYO, LILLIAN,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0746

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-22 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 8/1/1965, 6 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 23-43 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 27, 42 and 43. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 27 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 42 and 43, but denies, as to paragraph 43, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

JIMENEZ, JOSE M. OLIVO, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0748

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 18-38 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 22, 37 and 38. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 22 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 37 and 38, but denies, as to paragraph 38, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 76 through 82 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 15-35 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 19, 34 and 35. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 19 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 34 and 35, but denies, as to paragraph 35, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

3. Paragraphs 17-37 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 21, 36 and 37. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 21 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 36 and 37, but denies, as to paragraph 37, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 77 through 83 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 18-38 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 22, 37 and 38. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 22 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 37 and 38, but denies, as to paragraph 38, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 61 through 67 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 8/24/1958), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 62 through 68 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

CARRASQUILLO, VICTOR MANUEL,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0761

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 62 through 68 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MORAIN, CATHERINE INC, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0763

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 19-39 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 23, 38 and 39. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 23 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 38 and 39, but denies, as to paragraph 39, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 80 through 86 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

OSCAR, MALINA,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0765

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 61 through 67 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. 9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

CRISPIN, FERNANDO, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0767

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 18-38 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 22, 37 and 38. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 22 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 37 and 38, but denies, as to paragraph 38, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 78 through 84 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. 19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RODRIGUEZ, CARMEN M,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0769

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

TORRES, CARMELO JR,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0771

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 7/28/1975), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ARROYO, HECTOR M, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0773

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 18-38 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 22, 37 and 38. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 22 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 37 and 38, but denies, as to paragraph 38, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 79 through 85 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RICHARDSON, LAURENCEA L,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0775

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 1/18/1939), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

LOCKHART, JESSICA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0777

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 16-36 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 20, 35 and 36. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 20 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 35 and 36, but denies, as to paragraph 36, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 76 through 82 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

BENJAMIN, DOROTHY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0779

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 14-34 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 18, 33 and 34. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 18 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 33 and 34, but denies, as to paragraph 34, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 69 through 75 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

CARTY, ROSEMARIE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0781

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 18-38 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 22, 37 and 38. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 22 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 37 and 38, but denies, as to paragraph 38, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 79 through 85 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RAMOS, JOSEFINA ISABEL,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0783

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SHIRLEY, HELEN,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0785

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

STEPHEN, THERESA,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0787

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 11/27/1939), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

PEREZ, ANGEL M,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0789

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

FELIX, MATHILDA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0791

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 17-37 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 21, 36 and 37. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 21 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 36 and 37, but denies, as to paragraph 37, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 77 through 83 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RODRIGUEZ, EDWIN, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0793

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 20-40 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 24, 39 and 40. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 24 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 39 and 40, but denies, as to paragraph 40, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 79 through 85 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MARTINEZ, MILAGRO, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0795

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-21 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 12:00:00 AM, 8 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 22-42 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 26, 41 and 42. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 26 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 41 and 42, but denies, as to paragraph 42, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 86 through 92 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 21-41 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 25, 40 and 41. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 25 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 40 and 41, but denies, as to paragraph 41, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 80 through 86 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

3. Paragraphs 24-44 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 28, 43 and 44. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 28 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 43 and 44, but denies, as to paragraph 44, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 86 through 92 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 3/3/1943), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 2/19/1942), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 72 through 78 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 5/16/1946), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

BENJAMIN, LEROY, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0810

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 17-37 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 21, 36 and 37. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 21 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 36 and 37, but denies, as to paragraph 37, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 75 through 81 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Case No. SX-15-CV-0812

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

LEWIS, ANNE MARIE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0814

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. 9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

Case No. SX-15-CV-0816

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-10 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 5/22/1977, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

CRUZ, SARA,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0818

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 9/21/1950), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SOANES, WYCLIFFE, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0820

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 69 through 75 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MORALES, ARMANDO, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0822

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-10 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 7/19/1957, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 70 through 76 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

LLANOS, VERONICA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0824

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-10 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 12/23/1965, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 11-31 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 15, 30 and 31. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 15 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 30 and 31, but denies, as to paragraph 31, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

VENTURA, NOELIA SOTO,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No. SX-15-CV-0826

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 9/22/1950), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

BARNARD, MELVINA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0828

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-9 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 11/21/1944, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MARTE, FRANKLIN, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0830

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

DAVID, RUBY C., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0832

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

COBB, THEOPHILUS, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0834

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

JOSEPH, HELEN M., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0836

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-9 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 12/16/1947, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

MEADE, STEDROY T., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0838

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RAMOS, BRUNILDA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0840

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

AYALA, AWILDA I., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0842

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-9 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 7/7/1957, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SWEENY, CARMEN,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0844

Plaintiff,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 9/23/1940), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to this Plaintiff prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 64 through 70 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiff's recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiff because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiff's claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiff.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiff seeks to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiff has failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff is barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiff has accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiff "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff has failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiff either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff seeks injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiff's spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiff's Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

2. Paragraphs 2-9 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 10/18/1943, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-6 are factual averments regarding the named Plaintiff, (born 8/25/1972), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 7-27 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 11, 26 and 27. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 11 it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 26 and 27, but denies, as set forth in paragraph 27, that SCRG has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that it is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a brownfields site.

As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 20 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 35 and 36, but denies, as to paragraph 36, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 77 through 83 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-11 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 5/5/1973, 3 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 67 through 73 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-11 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 1/7/1960, 3 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

RENTAS, EUGENIA, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0859

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-9 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 11/15/1922, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SALDANA, MARCO A., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0861

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

3. Paragraphs 9-29 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 13, 28 and 29. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 13 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 28 and 29, but denies, as to paragraph 29, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

SYLVESTER, EUSTACE B., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0863

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-11 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 6/21/1968, 3 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

DENIS, MATTHEW, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0865

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-9 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 4/18/1973, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 66 through 72 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

AUGUSTE, OSWALD, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0867

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-9 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 3/7/1945, 2 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 10-30 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 14, 29 and 30. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 14 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 29 and 30, but denies, as to paragraph 30, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

PAULINA, PEDRO O.S., et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0869

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-11 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 1/20/1952, 3 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 12-32 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 16, 31 and 32. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 16 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 31 and 32, but denies, as to paragraph 32, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 68 through 74 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE VIRGIN ISLANDS
DIVISION OF ST. CROIX

ACOSTA, TOMAS, et al.,

Case No. SX-15-CV-0871

Plaintiffs,

v.

ST. CROIX ALUMINA LLC, GLENCORE
INTERNATIONAL AG, ALCOA, GLENCORE, LTD.
f/k/a CLARENDON, LTD., CENTURY ALUMINUM
COMPANY, and ST. CROIX RENAISSANCE
GROUP, LLLP,

Defendants.

ANSWER

1. Paragraph 1 is denied, as the U.S. District Court dismissed these claims before remanding this case. Moreover, this paragraph contains a jurisdictional averment based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and is therefore further denied.

2. Paragraphs 2-12 are factual averments regarding the Plaintiffs, (lead Plaintiff born 10/2/1960, 3 Plaintiffs in total), including residential and personal averments based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

3. Paragraphs 13-33 are all averments about the facts and legal status of other entities, based on factual information unknown to Defendant, and are therefore each corresponding paragraph is separately denied, except paragraphs 17, 32 and 33. As to those, SCRG admits as to paragraph 17 that it is a limited liability limited partnership, but denies any legal conclusions about it or what its citizenship is "deemed" to be; also SCRG admits that it purchased and is the owner the physical property where the refinery once was, as set forth in paragraphs 32 and 33, but denies, as to paragraph 33, it has owned or operated a "refinery" -- stating that SCRG is a protected purchaser, under applicable law, of a 'brownfields' site.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND (This and all captions below are from the Complaint)A. St. Croix Alumina Refinery

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with refining bauxite and a refinery operation prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

B. Hurricane Georges

4. All of the paragraphs in this section deal with Hurricane Georges and alleged injuries to Plaintiffs prior to SCRG's 2002 ownership; SCRG was not in existence and has no actual knowledge, and thus each corresponding paragraph is separately denied.

C. After Hurricane Georges

5. SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, except for paragraphs 71 through 77 which are admitted.

D. Related litigation

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in this section, as they deal with a recitation of a purported 'legal history' that is a matter of record, on which SCRG relies.

COUNTS I THROUGH VII

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count I, except that it admits there are residential communities North of the property.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count II,

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count III.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count IV.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count V.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VI.

SCRG separately denies all of the corresponding paragraphs in Count VII.

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSES

For its affirmative defenses to the allegations in the Complaint, SCRG states:

FIRST DEFENSE

1. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims and causes of action fail to state a claim for which relief may be granted.

SECOND DEFENSE

2. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the statutes of limitations.

THIRD DEFENSE

3. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because of the doctrine of comparative negligence.

FOURTH DEFENSE

4. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused solely by acts or omissions of third parties: other than SCRG, an employee or agent of SCRG. SCRG took precautions against foreseeable acts or omissions of those defendants and of such third parties and the consequences that could foreseeably result from such acts or omissions. SCRG took reasonable precautions against foreseeable consequences of any such third party.

FIFTH DEFENSE

5. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, some or all the damages alleged to have resulted from releases of substances or hazardous substances were due to acts of the USVI or US Governments or of SCRG acting under lawful orders of the USVI or US Governments.

Moreover, to the extent the materials released are alleged to be harmful substances under CERCLA, Plaintiffs' recovery is barred or reduced in proportion to the liability of others under CERCLA.

SIXTH DEFENSE

6. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to join indispensable parties necessary for adjudication of its distinct claims, and its action should be dismissed, for example, the Government of the US Virgin Islands.

SEVENTH DEFENSE

7. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom resulted from one or more permitted uses.

EIGHTH DEFENSE

8. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, SCRG may not be held liable for some or all of the damages alleged by Plaintiffs because such damages were specifically identified as an irreversible and irretrievable commitment of the premises and its resources in an applicable permit, environmental impact statement or other comparable environmental analysis, and decisions to grant a permit or license authorized such commitment of natural resources.

NINTH DEFENSE

9. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all of Plaintiffs' claims for damages seek a double recovery.

TENTH DEFENSE

10. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all the releases, costs sought to be recovered and other actions for which relief is sought in the Complaint, if they occurred, are preempted by the adoption of CERCLA or other federal statutes, and, therefore, are barred.

ELEVENTH DEFENSE

11. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the real property on which the facility was located was acquired by SCRG after the disposal or placement of the alleged hazardous substances on, in or at the facility by permitted use. At the time SCRG acquired the facility, SCRG did not know or have reason to know that one, some or all the alleged hazardous substances which are allegedly subject to release or threatened release were disposed of on, in or at the facility.

TWELFTH DEFENSE

12. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable under federal and USVI laws as it meets the definition of a bona fide purchaser, and/or a bona fide prospective or actual purchaser.

THIRTEENTH DEFENSE

13. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is not liable for indistinguishable releases from contiguous properties, including, but not limited to, the HOVENSA Refinery, Port Authority and WMA sewer and dump facilities.

FOURTEENTH DEFENSE

14.. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because some or all requests for relief have already been discharged or satisfied, because of SCRG's legal actions, such as, but not limited to, the red mud removal, the covering and remediation of the site and restoration pursuant to DPNR and Federal Court orders.

Moreover, SCRG has been prohibited from acting, ordered not to act or ordered to act as a part of those other consents or proceedings.

FIFTEENTH DEFENSE

15. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to fulfill statutory or procedural prerequisites as to some or all of their claims.

SIXTEENTH DEFENSE

16. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, the harm caused is a divisible harm; accordingly, SCRG cannot be held jointly and severally liable for such harm as it did not cause, as the damages or relief should be allocated.

SCRG is entitled to a percentage reduction offset against any recovery of damages for the amount paid by any other liable party or the equitable share of the liability of any person that has received or will receive a release from liability or covenant not to sue from Plaintiffs.

SEVENTEENTH DEFENSE

17. To the extent Plaintiffs seek to recover money damages for alleged future injuries, such future injuries are speculative, and recovery based thereon would violate SCRG's due process rights.

EIGHTEENTH DEFENSE

18. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the Complaint lacks sufficient specificity to allow SCRG to understand the claims or assert defenses. Plaintiffs have failed to allege (a) the specific nature of SCRG's involvement, (b) the specific locations where each such release/contamination/injury/act of recovery or remediation occurred, (c) the specific substances released, (d) when the releases occurred, (e) when each injury occurred and (f) which release of what hazardous substance was the sole or substantially contributing cause of such injury (g) by what pathway exposure to the hazardous substance occurred, and (h) the resultant harm.

NINETEENTH DEFENSE

19. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because if the releases alleged in the Complaint occurred and have resulted in harm, all of which SCRG denies, one or more of the releases or threatened releases of a hazardous substance and the damages resulting therefrom were caused by one or more Acts of God.

TWENTIETH DEFENSE

20. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs are barred from obtaining the relief sought in this action by the doctrines of unclean hands, waiver or equitable estoppel.

TWENTY-FIRST DEFENSE

21. Plaintiffs have accepted remediation and other relief, which has addressed and alleviated some or all of the damages alleged. This includes but is not limited to the cleaning of premises and cisterns.

TWENTY-SECOND DEFENSE

22. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG has not engaged in processing of bauxite ore or the creation of red mud piles. SCRG has not engaged in any abnormally dangerous activity. SCRG has simply attempted to reclaim a brownfield site consistent with the policy of the USVI and US governments.

TWENTY-THIRD DEFENSE

23. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the equitable doctrine of laches.

TWENTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

24. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because by res judicata, collateral estoppel and/or law of the case, including but not limited to the Memorandum Opinion and Order of the U.S. District Court dismissing some or all of these claims as to SCRG.

TWENTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

25. The complaint is barred in whole or in part by the Plaintiffs "coming to" the nuisance.

TWENTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

26. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs have failed to mitigate their alleged damages.

TWENTY -SEVENTH DEFENSE

27. The complaint is barred in whole or in part due to the defense of privilege, as SCRG is not liable for activities that either or both of DPNR and/or Plaintiffs either permitted, acquiesced in, or knowingly failed to prohibit and/or prevent while having a duty to do so.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DEFENSE

28. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs seek injunctive and prospective relief for a situation or condition that has been remediated.

TWENTY-NINTH DEFENSE

29. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because it is unclear whether the Complaint seeks pass through damages regarding violation of environmental permits, even though much, if not all, of the conduct alleged to have been done by SCRG is conduct fully authorized by statute, ordinance, regulation.

THIRTIETH DEFENSE

30. The complaint is barred due to the doctrine of Force Majeure, as certain events were Acts of God.

THIRTY-FIRST DEFENSE

31. The complaint is barred due to the Plaintiffs' spoliation of evidence.

THIRTY-SECOND DEFENSE

32. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because SCRG is an "innocent land owner" within the meaning of 12 V.I.C. § 551 (g), and is not liable for damages under some or all the claims pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(c)(1).

THIRTY-THIRD DEFENSE

33. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because any contamination is due to contamination and releases from contiguous properties, including but not limited to, the HOVENSA REFINERY. Consequently, SCRG is not liable for damages for such contamination pursuant to 12 V.I.C. § 555(d).

THIRTY-FOURTH DEFENSE

34. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because the statutory limitation period for the actions in this cause includes no acts by SCRG prior to June 22, 2002 -- as it was not an owner or in any way involved with the property until June 22, 2002. Thus, no equitable or other order which is predicated on prior dates can be entered, nor can damages be allowed.

THIRTY-FIFTH DEFENSE

35. SCRG adopts by reference all affirmative defenses heretofore or hereafter pled by any other Defendant, to the extent applicable to SCRG.

THIRTY-SIXTH DEFENSE

36. SCRG intends to rely upon all other applicable affirmative defenses as may become apparent during discovery in this action and reserves the right to amend its answer accordingly.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DEFENSE

37. The complaint is barred in whole or in part because Plaintiffs' Complaint does not describe its claims or events with sufficient particularity to allow SCRG to ascertain what other affirmative and other defenses may exist, and SCRG therefore reserves the right to assert any and every other defense that may be available to it under the various statutes, regulations and common law theories that they are alleged to have violated or under which they are alleged to have liability.
